IN DRIVER'S SEAT

HON. CLAUDE PEPPER
Tallahassee

Having been elected two years ago to a full term of six years in the United States Senate, Hon. Claude Pepper finds himself automatically in the driver's seat with primary election time nearing. It would be quite natural for him to be interested in a senatorial candidate who would go along in support of the administration.

Game Commission Heads Furnish Rote Program Thursday

I. N. Kennedy, Executive Secretary, Is Featured Speaker Of Day

Prominent members of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission of the state furnished the program for the Pahokee Rotary club at yesterday's meeting in the Masonic temple. Dr. I. N. Kennedy, executive secretary to the commission, was the featured speaker.

Inman W. Weeks, member of commission from this the fourth district was in charge of the program for the day and called on Mayor John Dulany to introduce Mr. Kennedy. L. G. Bruce, of Bartow, member of the commission from the first district, was also present for the program as was J. L. Billings, of Miami, chief conservation officer of the fourth district.

In an interesting talk Mr. Kennedy pointed out that the game in Florida belongs to all of the people contrasted with foreign countries where the game belongs to the landowners. He told of the department's operation on money collected from hunting and fishing licenses—with not a cent coming from tax money of the state. Mr. Kennedy gave a brief review of the department's work in an effort to conserve the game and fish in Florida. He asked for the cooperation of every citizen of Florida.

The guest speaker Thursday is a Rotarian with an unbroken attendance record of 17 years.

Joe Massey was a new member present. Harold Rosenberg and Game Warden Erwin Winte were guests. From the Belle Glade club there, were: Jay Jameson, Buzz Granger, Dick Bowman and "Doc" VanLandingham.

Hobsonmen Still Crippled and Sick For Game Tonight

Blue Devils Set On Their Heels By Stuart Last Friday

It's a weary crew of foot ball players that Coach Hobson has been working with this week. With half his men knocked out by flu and several others on the injured list the popular coach will have to use a little magic to snatch a win out of the bag tonight against Fort Pierce. Then there is shock to overcome—the shock of losing the first game on Florida soil this year to Stuart last Friday night.

Hobson has shuffled his crew and late yesterday evening said he would start the following boys—that is, he will start them if they aren't suffering from cold or injury by game time tonight—they are Cowen, Unwin, Roy Kautz, Stevens, Johnny Kautz, Fears, Mike Sanders, Peacock, Fowler, Dell and Frasure. Bill Cowen suffered a broken collar bone in practice this week and he's out for the season.

Bean Prices Are Up But Movement Is Slow During Week

Prices High As $3.50 During Week; Dropped Off Some Thursday

The fortunate few in the Glades who have had beans for sale this week have realized excellent prices for them. Less than 100 cars have moved from the Lake Region during the past seven days over the FEC railway. The prices have ranged from $3.50 down to $1.50.

During the first of the week blacks sold from $3.30 to $3.50 while flats brought around $2.75 down to $2.15. The wax variety brought from $3.00 to $3.50 and tendergreens brought from $2.00 to $2.20. The price took a decided drop, however, and offerings yesterday were bringing a great deal less than they did the first of the week.

The heaviest movement from the Glades this week with from the Belle Glade area.

Tuesday, November 28, Is Day Set For Hospital Election In Glades Section

Tuesday, November 28, 1939, is hospital election day in Western Palm Beach county—that section of the county lying west of Twenty-Mile Bend. According to Attorney Herbert D. Beck, Belle Glade, sponsor of the bill in the 1939 legislature, all persons who were qualified to vote in the last general election are qualified to vote in the hospital election. To this number will be added those who have registered during 1939 since the re-registration law was passed requiring a complete re-registration of all voters in Palm Beach county.

Mr. Beck pointed out that should the bill gain the approval of the voters in Western Palm Beach county — a majority of all votes cast on that day—a nine man board will be appointed by the governor. The bill calls for appointment of three men from the incorporated town of Belle Glade, three from the incorporated town of Pahokee and three at large from the section affected. Three men will be appointed for three years, three for two years and three for one year. By this plan of staggering the appointments it will be possible to have experienced men on the board when the next governor makes additional appointments to replace those whose term expire.

The Belle Glade attorney also said the bill calls for alternate meetings of the board—the meetings to be held monthly—one month in Belle Glade and the next month in Pahokee.

The county board has appointed officials for holding the election. They are as follows: Canal Point—Mrs. Virginia Adams, Mrs. Beulah George, Harold Rosenberg and D. L. Hooks; Pahokee—Mrs. T. G. Dickson, Elmer Jones, S. F. Beard and Mrs. Blanche Armstrong; Chosen—Mrs. Gertrude Winnie, Mrs. Sam Fleming, Mrs. F. A. LeFils and I. W. West; Belle Glade—Elsie Cherry, Walter Greer, Mrs. Allen Greer and G. I. Evans; South Bay—Mrs. E. E. Forbes, Mrs. H. C. Willits, Mrs. P. E. Goodbread and M. D. Hardy; Lake Harbor—Maude L. Layfield, H. D. Merriam, Mrs. H. E. Byrd and Miss Billie Scogin; Shawano — J. L. Murphy, Stanley Taylor, F. C. King and W. C. Lord. The usual polling places will be used in each precinct named, it was pointed out by the county board.

A great deal of misunderstanding has been experienced during the past few days by many of the voters. Some believe that only freeholders can vote. This is not the case, according to Mr. Beck, who authored and passed the bill. Any qualified voter may participate in the election, he said.

Although this newspaper has not been provided with a copy of the bill, so that we might intelligently enlighten the people of Western Palm Beach county upon what they are supposed to vote, we are printing below the "title only" which appears in the legal advertisement:

"An Act establishing Western Palm Beach County Public Hospital Board as a body corporate, with jurisdiction extending in all that portion of Palm Beach County lying west of the eastern boundary of Range 39; providing for the qualifications and method of appointment of the members of such Hospital Board; providing for the term of office and for the compensation to be paid the members of such Hospital Board, its duties and powers, and for the adoption of a Seal for said Hospital Board; giving said Hospital Board power to purchase property, construct hospital building or buildings or to operate, maintain and supervise such hospitals; authorizing said Hospital Board to borrow money and issue bonds to purchase property, to construct hospital buildings and equip and maintain the same; providing for the calling of special tax elections for the issuance of evidence of indebtedness and bonds; providing for the condemnation of property under the right of eminent domain, providing rules and regulations for the use and operation of such hospitals or hospital; providing for the Levy of a millage not to exceed 10 mills on all of the property included in said portion of Palm Beach County, Florida, the manner of the collection of the same; providing for the right to accept gifts and donations and declaring said act to be for public purposes; providing for the issuance of benefit certificates and the terms and conditions upon which same may be issued; providing for a referendum."

Migratory Camp Is Sought for Pahokee By City Council

Action Taken At Adjourned Meeting Of Body On Monday Night

Pahokee city council, at an adjourned meeting Monday night, requested the Farm Security Administration build an itinerant labor camp in this vicinity. It was pointed out that the migration of labor to this area during the vegetable season was unpredictable and the number of laborers arriving often overtaxed the housing facilities of the community. Clerk W. P. Walker was instructed to send a copy of the resolution to the Farm Security Administration.

The council announced it would be unable to authorize an industrial survey of the city at a cost of $150 at this time as there are no funds. B. S. Waring reporting for the Chamber of Commerce, said the Chamber was also unable to undertake the financing of the survey.

The annual report of the city auditors was read by Clerk Walker and accepted. The auditors pointed out that the use of city water had increased 12 per cent during the year while collections of income from this source were behind 21 per cent and that action be taken to collect water bills in arrears.

The resignation of Reid Clifton from the police force was accepted and Buck Humphries was appointed to succeed him. Clifton resigned after receiving an appointment to the new State Road Patrol.

Three new ordinances, one requiring all persons operating a motor vehicle in the city limits to possess a State driver's license, another requiring the utility company to discontinue service with any of its customers upon orders from the electrical inspector, and a third, creating a new plumbing code, were passed.

The primaries next May will, in all probability, see a spirited battle between Sheriff W. Hiram Lawrence and Attorney L. R. The interest in the coming race between these two candidates will eclipse all other county races.

Pat Cannon Spoke Tuesday Before Pahokee Lions Club

Congressman Appreciative Of Warm Welcome Extended Him In Glades

Congressman Pat Cannon, of Miami, was the featured speaker before the Pahokee Lions club on Tuesday of this week. He was introduced to the Lions and their many visitors by Mayor John A. Dulany of Pahokee.

The visiting congressman was highly appreciative of the warm welcome he received throughout the Glades area and thanked the Lions and their friends for inviting him to speak before them. He pointed out that it was only through such meetings that a congressman has opportunity to keep in close touch with his constituents.

Mr. Cannon expressed himself as being vitally interested in the Lake Okeechobee farming section, pointing out the work he had done during the past congress to further in the interests of farmers in this section. He asked for the continued co-operation of the community in presenting its problems to him in Washington.

Congressman Cannon minced no words when he told his listeners that he was interested in being returned to office. However, he said, his experience in the past session better equipped him to serve his congressional district in coming sessions. He pointed out that the first term of a freshman congressman is trying and most of the time is spent "getting his bearings."

He took full responsibility for any and all letters addressed to him in Washington. He said that he, personally, sees every piece of mail that goes to his office. With this statement he brought out the point that a three cent stamp would put you in touch with your congressman without having to go through some politician or a flock of secretaries.

Mr. Cannon's speech was warmly received by the Lions and the large group of other civic club members who were in attendance. During the afternoon he discussed vital problems of this community with city officials and members of the chamber of commerce.

GIVE THANKS

Thanksgiving approaches again this year, and on this occasion the presence of war abroad makes more important than ever our American habit of pausing for a day and counting our blessings. Even the difference of opinion between Governor Fred Cone and President Roosevelt this year concerning the date on which the event will be celebrated in Florida points to something American for counting our blessings. Even the democratic right to disagree about matters involving us solely as individuals.

What, in 1939, are some of the things for which we ought to be thanwful? Surely it is worth while to pause in whatever we are doing at the moment and list some of the reasons we are glad that we are Americans.

We should be thankful, most of all, for two precious heritages our forefathers gave us, heritages that are worth everything in the world for us to preserve. These two fundamentals are freedom and opportunity. They are characteristic of America in a manner and degree not matched in any other land.

We should be thankful, in a world at war, that we are at peace with all nations. We should be grateful for our system of representative democracy, which guarantees the fact that the public will to peace will be heeded.

We should be thankful for the high standard of living this country possesses, and we should be even more thankful that the system under which we live is designed to raise those standards even higher in the future. While others are at war, or remain precarious neutrals with armies poised on their borders, we in America look forward to a future growing before our eyes.

But we must not merely be thankful. This opportunity is also an obligation. That obligation lies in our making every effort to use the advantages we have here to the utmost—not to be fainthearted, not to neglect the opportunities that exist here, not to abuse the freedom we are granted.

Thus Thanksgiving this year ought at once to be a day in which we count our blessings, and one on which we remember the responsibilities that are ours.—Port St. Joe Star.

THANKSGIVING APPEAL

With a family of over 700 homeless, orphaned, and helpless little Florida children under its care and study—The Children's Home Society of Florida—generally regarded as "Florida's Greatest Charity" is making an urgent Thanksgiving appeal for money, food and children's wearables — in order that its great non-sectarian child placing service may continue to aid every homeless child in the entire state.

Money is the greatest and most immediate need for the Society in caring for over 1400 homeless youngsters so far this year has had to borrow over $12,000.00 to provide even the barest necessities of life for these children—and is now in the position where is must secure some real cash if the work is to carry on.

The Home Society receives no support from any governmental agencies or departments—and is entirely dependent on the generous impulses of the good people of Florida for its support. Foods of every kind—fruits, vegetables, meats, canned goods, chickens, eggs will be particularly welcomed at the receiving home of the Society, 2560 Riverside Avenue, Jacksonville—or at any one of its three other receiving homes in Lakeland, Pensacola or Miami.

Children's wearables—of every type, kind or size for children from babies up to boys and girls sixteen years of age—including shoes, stockings, sweaters, coats, hats, caps, boys and girl suits, dresses, and underwear will be greatly appreciated if sent to one of the Receiving Homes.

Good homes are constantly needed tor the Society's homeless boys and girls from six to sixteen years of age and application should be made to the State Superintendent Marcus C. "Daddy" Fagg, who will gladly give all details in regard to securing a child. It is the purpose of the Home Society to provide a real Thanksgiving dinner with all the trimmings for its four big families of Homeless children at its receiving homes in Jacksonville, Miami, Pensacola and Lakeland—if only the many friends of these orphaned kiddies will supply the necessary turkeys, ducks, chickens, meats and the extras.

How about it—What will you do to help? Even the smallest contribution of money, food and wearables will help a whole pile.

DO YOU KNOW . . .

That all the water bottoms belong to the state and cannot be sold, and that they are under state police control, even when leased?

That all the fish and shellfish in Florida waters belong to the state?

That shrimp brings more money than any other single item of Florida seafoods?

That more pounds of mullet are produced than of any other Florida fish?

That nobody in Florida in further than 63 miles away from salt water?

That 160,000 persons in Florida depend for their daily bread on the salt water fishing industry?

That sponges are taken in gulf coastal waters from Carrabelle to Key West?

That some of Florida's finest natural oyster bars never have been touched by commercial fishermen?

That Florida's shoreline is about 4,400 miles long greater than that of any other coastal state?

That as many as 300 shrimp boats sometimes are fishing for shrimp in Florida's coastal waters?

That conservation of Florida's natural fishing resources is the most important constructive movement under way in the state today?

That of the 67 varieties of edible fish produced commercially in Florida, few are taken outside state boundaries?

That salt water sports fishing brings more visitors into Florida than any other one thing except our balmy climate?

That Florida markets (at Tarpon Springs and Key West) four-fifths of all the sponges produced in the United States?

That 12,000 boats are engaged in fishing of some form in Florida's salt waters?

That 100 million pounds of food fish were produced commercially in Florida in 1938?

That 178 million pounds of sharks and menhaden, principal non-food fish caught, were produced in Florida last year?

That one closed season, properly enforced, is worth more in protection to any species of fish than a dozen hatcheries?

That Florida's annual catch of edible fish is growing smaller, due to over-fishing, but that with proper conservation the supply can and will be brought back and the industry given almost unlimited possibilities?

Deaths have increased and births decreased in Japan in the last year.

Recent Operations

By Paul Rardin

When a fellow stays away from Miami Beach for a few months it is hard to believe it is the same town when he goes back. Over the week end I had the pleasure of seeing first hand the goings-on there. Dozens and dozens of hotels under construction new homes and apartments galore are being erected. Business in humming. It's an early season. Everybody's busy. But, to give you an idea of the building I'm printing herewith some first hand information from the Miami Beach News Service.

Miami Beach has issued permits for 52 hotels so far this year. The hotels involve $11,311,000 for the construction alone, and will contain 3,093 rooms. Costs range from $[illegible] to $[illegible],000 and the size runs from 12 to 139 rooms.

In addition to the hotels there have been permits issued for 15 apartments and 208 residences. The apartments cost $1,855,126 and have 454 units. The residences are costing $2,116,550.

Since the incorporation of Miami Beach as a city in 1915 there have been 1[illegible] hotels built prior to 1939. The 52 constructed up to this time are more than were ever built in one year before. The largest number before this was in 1936 when 38 were built.

At present the city has [illegible] residences, 639 apartment buildings and 231 hotels, which accommodate 71,000 persons. The normal population of Miami Beach is estimated at 20,000. The 1935 state census figures showed 13,320.

Besides the hotels, apartments and homes listed above, permits have been issued for many buildings such as stores and offices, and for alterations and repairs, bringing the building total to $[illegible]2,22,887 to Oct. [illegible] 25.

There is no accurate way to determine the total cost of hotels and apartments [illegible] furnishings [illegible] of the most [illegible] many [illegible] estimates [illegible] the occupancy [illegible] cost [illegible] is rather [illegible]. This particular type of property [illegible] for about $1,000 a front foot, and practically all [illegible] lots are 75 feet and in many cases the hotels occupy two lots. Property farther from the ocean [illegible] constantly [illegible]. Landscaping and other [illegible] necessary for these new hotels is an expensive item.

Real estate dealers and developers here claim that 75 per cent of the land changing hands is selling for cash. They also claim that about the same percentage of the buildings are being erected for investment rather than speculation.

The reason for this amazing building of hotels and apartments at Miami Beach is due to the demand for more winter accommodations. For the last four or five years Miami Beach has been well up among the [illegible] building cities in the United States, and for the size of the city the building program has been phenomenal.

The building record for Miami Beach during the last few years follows:

1935 hotels, 21; apartments, 85; residences, 118.

1936 hotels, 38; apartments, 1[illegible]; residences, 320.

1937 hotels, 23; apartments, 78; residences, [illegible]1.

1938 hotels, 1[illegible]; apartments, 53; residences, 2[illegible].

The total building for the same years follows: 1935, $12,526,107; 1936, $10,[illegible],508; 1938, $7,075,806.

A great amount of the money for miscellaneous construction not accounted for in the list of hotels, homes and apartments is being spent for remodeling some of the older apartment buildings which have gone out of style.

PAHOKEE YOUTH KILLED BY TRUCK

Leonard Elkins, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Elkins of Pahokee, received fatal injuries when struck by a truck on N. Main street about 8 a. m. Wednesday. The accident occurred near the lad's home close to the Brooks Lumber Company.

E. E. Mackey of Lake Harbor driver of the truck, said that the boy ran into the side of the moving vehicle in spite of all his efforts to avoid him. Young Elkins was knocked well off the road by the impact, suffering a badly fractured skull. He was rushed to Everglades Memorial hospital by Kaveh Connell, but died about 1 p. m.

Road Patrolman Francis Cross and Officer Haywood Baxter said the boy started across the road in front of his home and ran into the side of the truck. Cross declared the accident was "unavoidable."

Aside from his parents he is survived by one brother, Junior Elkins, and four sisters, Mrs. Frank Bartz, Belle Glade; Mrs. Vernon Mathews, Port Mayaca; Miss Mozelle Elkins and Miss Edna Jane Elkins, Pahokee.

His schoolmates of the second grade acted as pallbearers and include: David Ramey, Bobby Beard, William Kilpatrick, Ralph Chaney, Jean Cochran, Billy Bailey, Jerrold Berry and Charles Dickson. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at the Everglades Funeral Home in Pahokee with Rev. Forde officiating. Burial was made at Port Mayaca.

Dowling Says Palm Beach Co. Is High In Production Of Fish

13,000,000 Pounds Seafood Produced Here In 1938 Season

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 16 Palm Beach is one of the 42 Florida counties touching salt water that presents an outstanding example of the benefits of conservation "It is one of Florida's greatest fishing counties, both for recreation and for the commercial fishermen," said R. L. (Bob) Dowling, Florida's supervisor of conservation.

Sports fishing in the salt water of Palm Beach county brings literally millions of dollars to the area. The water are most fruitful, the variety of game fish is large, and catches are made every day in the year when there is not too rough weather for boats, and these days are few.

In appreciation of this great resource, and in cooperation with local citizens and both the sports and commercial fishing interests, Supervisor Dowling today announced that a good partol boat is moving in to the Palm Beach waters and will be on duty with a competent officer and a good boatman. The patrol will be brought to the very doors of those who are interested in conservation, and an adequate protection will continue to be furnished by the department.

Recreational facilities at the Palm Beaches are world-famed Sports fishing always has been one of the community's chief attractions. Sports fishing and commercial fishing both terive in the same waters. Nothing could bring greater satisfaction to Supervisor Dowling than the realization that both classes of fishing are prospering, both are cooperating with authorities, and that the department in Tallahassee has convinced the fishing interests generally that it is thoroughly conversant with and sympathetic to both.

Conservation agents in the field have filed their annual reports. The picture they present of fishing and the seafoods industry in Florida is state-wide. Palm Beach county fits into this picture at the very top of the list of coastal counties. Conditions there are well known to Mr Dowling, he said, and he proposes to do everything in his power to cooperate with and build up the resources which bring so many dollars into the coffers of Palm Beach county.

Palm Beach county waters are well worth a constant patrol, the supervisor said, and while much fine work has been done in the past in breaking up illegal fishing and other wasteful practices, he believes the presence of a good boat and extra men during the forthcoming season will enhance the picture. He said he felt that Palm Beach county is entitled to this cooperation and he proposes to give it.

Speaking of the commercial fishing industry, Mr. Dowling said more than 13 million pounds of seafoods were produced in 1938 in Palm Beach county. Thirty-five varieties were recorded. Bluefish, Spanish mackerel, kings and several others led. Mullet fishing is not so important as it is to west coast counties.

Dowling said he appreciates the support he has had from Palm Beach county in the conservation program. Boat owners have complied with the law without complaint, dealers have paid licenses and equipped themselves for business promptly, and the industry is in line with conservation.

Hobsonmen Still—

may be able to play in the West Palm Beach game on Dec. 7. That is problematical however. Marion Spooner has been out of school all week suffering from the flu and others have severe colds.

Yesterday afternoon Hobson said: "We'll play the men who are in condition and hope for the best. It looks like a tough game with Fort Pierce."

Herb Bruner, 160 pounds of running dynamite, exploded against the Pahokee Blue Devils Friday night in Stuart, to give the Stuart Tigers a 13-to-1 upset victory over the highly regarded Everglades eleven.

The Blue Devils, weakened by loss of some of their key men due to illness and injury, were unable to stop Bruner in an early drive, and the Tigers piled up a 13-0 lead at the half. Then Pahokee showed power in a third period march to score, but lost several more chances on a fumble and intercepted pass.

Bruner was sensational in the initial scoring thrust. In four plays he covered 70 yards for a touchdown, twisting and driving for 40 yards on the first play. Then he went through the line twice for 10 yards each crack, and on the next play took a lateral pass to race 20 yards for the touchdown. Wilbur Ferguson converted.

The second touchdown came early in the second period after Pahokee reached their own 40, and, with inches to go for a first down, elected to try for it, but the plunge failed, and it was Stuart's ball. Hardwick immediately flipped a pass to Bruner which was good for 15. Bruner again eluded Pahokee tacklers and sprinted 15 yards to the 10. Baker went around left end for the score. The placement attempt failed.

Pahokee came out after the half and duplicated Stuart's first period. Getting the ball after the kick-off on their own 35, Dell in a long run was finally hauled down on the Stuart 19. A pass, Frasure to Spooner, placed the ball on the one-yard line. Three smashes at the line failed, but Frasure knifed across on the last down. Kautz kicked the point.

Twenty-First Annual Observance Of Book Week Held In Nation

Nov. 12-18 Set Aside; Movement Was Started Back In 1919

This week, Nov. 12-18, marks the twenty-first annual observance of Book Week [illegible] 1919 by Franklin K. Mathiews, chief librarian of the Boy Scouts. [illegible] Week [illegible] for better books [illegible] in homes [illegible] ing the [illegible] public places [illegible] not a [illegible] in the beginning to foster books suitable for boys and girls, it has become a gay crusade dramatizing in happy celebration the joys of owning books, the pleasures of book companionship. Book Week has helped to bring a list of new and better editions and the finest and richest collection of books for young people that has ever existed. Book Week has helped to promote reading for fun and enlightment in schools, libraries and the country over. Coming just before Thanksgiving and Christmas, Book Week occupies an appropriate place on the calendar, ushering in the season of good will, of friendship, of gift-giving. Though confined to a single week, it spreads enthusiasm for books through the Holiday Season on into all the months of the year.

This year's theme for Book Week is "Books Around the World." The following statement is all too true. "Never in the history of our country has it been [illegible] important that we understand ourselves and that we understand [illegible] neighbors around the world. Book Week, with its emphasis on Books Around the World, has [illegible] this year a very definite application.

Old Man Illness Wallops Students

Old Man Illness has given Pahokee High a terrific walloping during the last week. Our football team has taken a worse beating from flu than it ever received from West Palm Beach in its best days.

H. B. Baxter is in the Pahokee hospital suffering from pneumonia. Calvin Peacock has been out of school about ten days. Dan Beardsley spent his week-end and a few school days winning his bout with flu. Jack Fowler came to school one day after an absence but had to go home. Kermit Dell, Walter Cross, Walker Fears, and W. A. Stevens aren't very chipper but think they will live. Marion Spooner has been dragging around trying to convince his folks he should play in the Stuart game.

Mary Jameson, cheerleader, has caught the same flu germ that has disrupted the team. Leroy Alspaugh, the only boy among the cheerleaders, is recuperating from typhus fever, but will not return to school immediately.

This epidemic is liable to have even more serious consequences than the crippling of the football team. State funds are allocated to the schools on the basis of attendance and Pahokee's attendance record for the past month is the lowest for several years. During the first month of school, the total number of days absent for both senior and junior high schools was 95; during the second month the total jumped to 345.

"Devils' Pitchfork" Name Of Our Paper

After much debate among members of the Press Club and other students and teachers, the name "Devils' Pitchfork" was selected for our newspaper. We had some original contributions from the student body, and we wish to thank all of you for your ideas.

Student Council Under Discussion

The Senior Class has, for the last few weeks, been discussing the need for a student council in our school to take care of any infractions of the regulations which affect the students. This is a very hard undertaking for us as no one in the class has had experience in this sort of thing.

Jack Phillips and Dan Beardsley have been appointed to find out as much about the purpose and the working of other student councils over the state as they can.

We would like to have the view point of the student body on this question, so any one that is interested please get in touch with either Dan, Jack, or Mrs. Beardsley.
